Student Responsibility

It is the responsibility of the student to be aware of policies, procedures and deadlines which are in effect during his/her attendance at Coquitlam College. This information is printed online, in the Calendar and other College publications.

Each student is responsible for the accuracy and completeness of his/her program at Coquitlam College. In semester programs, care should be taken by each student to ensure that his/her courses are appropriate for the program selected, including the number of courses needed to complete the requirements for graduation. A student will not receive credit for courses in which he/she has not registered.

Students are expected to maintain a responsible standard of conduct, deportment and dress; to regularly attend classes; to keep their work up to date; and to complete all assignments as required.

The College may suspend a student at any time for unsatisfactory conduct, for failure to abide by regulations, or for consistent failure to apply himself/herself to the course of studies for which he/she is enrolled (e.g. high absenteeism).

Student Identification

Coquitlam College Students ID’s can be obtained at the Bookstore from Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Students in the Senior Secondary and English Studies programs may be eligible for a Go Card, this can be used for Coquitlam College identification purposes. A Go Card is only given to a student who is:

1. A resident of the Transit Service area, and;
2. Is fourteen (14) years of age or in Grade 8 and nineteen (19) years of age or under at the start of the school year, and;
3. Regularly attends classes at a public school up to and including Grade 12 or at a private school where he/she is receiving a full-time course of instruction leading to a high school graduation certificate or the completion of Grade 12.

Important Notice: You must provide a valid government photo ID to receive your Coquitlam College Student ID or Go Card.

Student Conduct

Coquitlam College holds students responsible in matters of conduct which affect the College community. Any student whose actions cause harm to another individual, or group, or damage to College property may be liable for legal action. Any student found conducting business to represent student recruitment agencies is considered by Coquitlam College a serious conflict of interest. The College may impose disciplinary measures for these or other actions. Sanctions include a warning, a reprimand, suspension or expulsion. No refunds will be available to students indulging in the above actions.

A. Teamwork

In most courses, term essays, projects, reports and tests assigned to students during the semester account for a portion of the final grade. It is important, therefore, that students maintain a consistent effort in all assignments and class work.

B. Attendance

Students are expected to regularly attend classes, laboratories, workshops, or seminars held in each subject for which they are enrolled. After consultation with Administration, the instructor may refuse a student admission to the class for chronic lateness, class misconduct, or failure to complete assigned work. As well, failure to maintain a satisfactory attendance level may result in the student being required to withdraw from a particular course. Absence from class for any reason does not relieve a student from the responsibility of completing course work and assignments to the satisfaction of the instructor.

All students who have missed a class for valid reasons will not be penalized for missed tests or quizzes as a result of an absence. Instructors may allow an alternate test date or will apply the percentage received for the final exam to any missed tests. Missing classes, even for a valid reason, is likely to adversely affect a student's academic standing. It should be noted that instructors will assist students who have missed classes; however, teachers are not responsible for making up lost time. To avoid disruption, students who are late for class are expected to enter politely e.g. when the instructor or student/students are not speaking, etc. Consistent lateness may also cause academic problems. Students are expected to attend at least 50% of their University classes or they may be excluded from taking the final exam.

Senior Secondary and English Studies Program

It will be the responsibility of instructors to advise adult students (over 18) of the consequences of high absenteeism (6+). If the teacher wishes to emphasize the point, they may escort violators to see a counsellor at the end of class. Prolonged absences of a week or more in all classes will be monitored as expediently as possible for underage students, e.g., phone, mail, email or contact with parents to determine the problem. Students are expected to attend at least 50% of their University classes or they may be excluded from taking the final exam.

Intellectual Honesty

The academic standards and reputation of a college are a shared responsibility of the faculty and students. Intellectual honesty is a cornerstone of continued membership in the college community.

Intellectual dishonesty may take many forms. For example, the unacknowledged use of the ideas or published material of others constitutes plagiarism. While much academic work must involve the consideration of ideas and material originally conceived or made accessible by others, there is a significant difference between an acknowledged restatement of such ideas and materials after intelligent assimilation, and the intentional unacknowledged reproduction of them. Other examples of intellectual dishonesty are cheating on exams, aiding and abetting cheating, using essays prepared by other persons, falsifying laboratory results, impersonating another student at an examination, misrepresenting information on academic records and the falsifying of academic records.

A. Cheating

If a student is caught cheating, he/she will be brought to the office, his/her name will be recorded, and depending on the situation, will either be expelled, fail the course, or receive zero on the assignment/test. If a student is caught cheating a second time, he/she may be expelled from Coquitlam College.

B. Electronic Cheating

Any student who turns on or looks at their cell phone or other unauthorized electronic device (iPad, smart watch, laptop, tablet, etc.) during a scheduled quiz, test, midterm or final exam constitutes cheating and is punishable by receiving an “F” and/or automatic course failure.

Student Exam Regulations

- Students must not bring out an electronic device (cell phones, watches, etc.) during an examination.
- Students who look at or turn on an electronic device during the examination will fail the exam.
- No notes are allowed.
- Books, coats, hats and bags are discouraged in this examination. If they are present, they should be placed at the front of the classroom or under the desk. Bags must be closed, hats must be removed and students must never reach for anything in a bag.
- Do not speak to anyone apart from the instructor. Raise your hand if you need attention.
- Any material that is exchanged from one student to another will be interpreted as cheating. This also includes material that has fallen to the floor.
- Respect your fellow students and be quiet in the corridor.

Note: Students offering gifts or emailing instructors for higher marks is evidence of academic dishonesty.

Final Examinations

Students who fail to write a final examination because of serious illness or emergency may be able to write a deferred examination. The reason for absence must be verified by the Administration.

Final examinations will normally be held during the week immediately following the last day of classes. Dates of the examination period for each semester are outlined in the Academic Calendar. A copy of the exam timetable will be posted online. Travel plans should not be made until a student has verification of exam dates. Students are not eligible to write any exam for any reason prior to the scheduled date.

In order to receive credit, Senior Secondary students are required to write a final examination and in certain Grade 10, 11 and 12 courses, a Provincial Government Examination.

Appeal Procedures

Procedures have been established for dealing with the following types of appeals:

A. Appeals Against Grades on Individual Items of Work

If a student has cause to believe that a grade assigned on any single item of work is unjust, he/she should first discuss the matter with the instructor within seven days after the instructor has notified the student of the grade. Grades on final items of term work and final examinations graded after the end of classes may be appealed up to thirty (30) days following the last day of the evaluation period for the semester in which the course is offered.

If, after discussion with the instructor, a student still believes the grade is unfair, he/she may, within thirty (30) days, submit an appeal in writing to the Registrar. The appeal should include a copy of the work which is the subject of the appeal, reasons for the appeal, and a summary of the conversation with the instructor involved. The Registrar will notify the student of the result.

In starting an appeal, students have a right to expect that the disputed grade will be reviewed in a manner other than the one which generated the original grade. The Registrar has the responsibility to rule on appeals in the concerned department. Normally, the department will be the highest body of appeal. However, if the student has reason to believe his/her appeal was not given a fair hearing by the department, a further appeal may be made in writing to the Registrar, with provision to add members from the appropriate disciplines, if necessary.

The petition must contain reasons why a new grade is requested, and must be accompanied by an administrative appeal fee, as outlined below. If the appeal is upheld, such fee will be refunded.

B. Appeals Against Final Grades

Since the grade on any individual piece of work, including the final examinations, can be appealed, there are three grounds for appealing against a final grade:

1. The assessment of the final grade must have been made without taking into consideration all pieces of completed work, because no work was missing or incomplete;
2. There must have been some error in calculation in developing the final grade because it does not appear to correspond to the grades awarded to all the individual pieces of work;
3. The overall assessment of the grade is unjust.

Students are reminded, however, that final grades in all courses are reviewed by the department concerned prior to submission to the Registrar.

C. Appeals to Complete Work After the Evaluation Period

If circumstances beyond the student's control create situations in which it is impossible, or causes too much hardship to complete a piece of required work by the end of the evaluation period, or to write an examination at the scheduled time, he/she may appeal to write the examination late, or to have additional time to complete the work.

An administrative fee of $25.00, refundable only upon success of the appeal, must accompany all appeals for reconsideration of a term paper, or for final examination grades.

No fee will be assessed for appeals dealing with extended deadlines for completion of work or for appeals for retroactive withdrawal.

Important Notice*

All appeals must be accompanied by adequate documentation pertaining to reasons why an appeal is warranted and should be submitted on behalf of the student by a person or persons in a position to be aware of the student's particular circumstances. This is especially important concerning appeals under items B and C above.

Scholastic Probation

No probation will be started in the first semester unless the student has created an unacceptable situation regarding classroom behavior, work or participation. Second term students with a combination of poor attendance and failing grades will be placed on first probation and issued a probationary letter. Third semester students who do not meet probation requirements will be placed on final probation which could result in expulsion with no refund.

Students under the age of 19 parent/guardians will be informed of the probation and requirements.

Students on probation will not receive a visa renewal letter when their visa expires.

Academic Discipline

Sanctions imposed by the College for intellectual dishonesty may include a simple warning, reassessment of the work, failure on the particular assignment, failure in the course, denial of admission or readmission, or suspension or expulsion from the College. In deciding on the appropriate sanction to be imposed for an act violating intellectual honesty, consideration will be given to all relevant matters including: the extent of the dishonesty; the inadvertent or deliberate character of the dishonesty; the importance of the work in question; whether the act in question is an isolated incident or part of repeated acts of academic dishonesty; mitigating or aggravating circumstances.

Classification of Students

Coquitlam College offers a full-time schedule. International students requiring study permits are therefore required to enroll in a full-time program.

1. Full-Time Student - Students must take a minimum of three courses to be classified as full-time
2. Part-Time Student - Any student enrolled in less than a regular course load as defined above.
3. Audit Student - Audit students attend classes for interest or self-improvement reasons. These students are required to complete class assignments but do not write examinations. Permission to enroll as an audit student must be approved by the Registrar at the time of registration.
4. Mature Student - Any person who is twenty-three years of age or more, or who would reach that age during the first semester in attendance, and who is not eligible for admission under another category is considered a mature student. Senior Secondary – Earning Credits for Other

Learning

Students can earn credit for other learning in the Dogwood Diploma and Adult Graduation Programs by Earning Credit through Equivalency, Challenge, External Credentials, Post-Secondary Credit and Independent Directed Studies.

Course Challenge

A student can challenge a Senior Secondary course if he or she:

- a) is currently enrolled at Coquitlam College.
- b) has not completed the course through previous enrollment.
- c) can give compelling evidence that he or she will succeed in the challenge.
- d) shows that the challenge is linked to his or her Student Learning Plan.

Challenge Procedures:

- a) meet with counsellor and subject instructor.
- b) determine eligibility for process.
- c) the challenge process will provide the school mark.
- d) write the provincial exam at one of the scheduled exam times set by the ministry.

International students must earn credit for courses in the following categories through instruction from a British Columbia certified teacher. No Challenge process is permitted:

- Language Arts 11
- Language Arts 12
- One of Science 11 or 12
- One of Mathematics 11 or 12
- Social Studies 11

Equivalency

Students who complete high school courses outside of British Columbia may receive credit for a comparable course in BC through equivalency.

Equivalency will be granted for courses taken at another institution or in an education jurisdiction outside the regular BC school system.

When a student presents a final percentage from an institution outside the regular BC school system, Coquitlam College will assign the appropriate credits.

International students may earn credit through equivalency for Language Arts 10, Science 10 and Mathematics 10. International students must earn credit for courses in the following categories through instruction from a British Columbia certified teacher. No equivalency process is permitted:

- Language Arts 11
- Language Arts 12
- One of Science 11 or 12
- One of Mathematics 11 or 12
- Social Studies 11
- Career Life Education
- Career Life Connections & Capstone Project

 Language Arts 12 students who are on the Dogwood Diploma must write the required provincial exam(s).

External Credentials

Students can earn External Credentials in courses, programs, and assessment that are developed outside the BC school system and taken either inside or outside the regular classroom setting. External credentials are not equivalent to Ministry-Developed curriculum.

It is the student's responsibility to present the documentation from the external institution as proof of successfully completing the course. The Counsellor will need to examine the credential, and should verification be required, the Counsellor will need to contact the external institution.

Only those external credentials in the British Columbia Ministry of Education Course Information for the Graduation Programs can be applied toward graduation

External Dual Credit Post Secondary Courses

Students are entitled to dual credit if they can earn post-secondary credits for:

- a for-credit course that leads to a credential from a post-secondary institution that is a member of the British Columbia Transfer System (www.bccat.bc.ca), or
- a course that is offered in French in conjunction with Educacentre.

Students who successfully complete a course at Coquitlam College or present an official transcript from an institution which is a member of the British Columbia Transfer System are entitled to have the course count towards secondary school graduation. All such completed post-secondary courses count as elective Grade 12 level courses and are assigned 4 credits. Courses that qualify must lead to a post-secondary credential, including courses in certificate programs of one year or less, two-year diploma programs and full degree programs.

A listing of all assigned post-secondary institutions can be found on the BCCAT website (www.bccat.bc.ca) or BC Ministry of Education Course Information for the Graduation Program.

Independent Directed Studies (IDS)

Students must demonstrate the ability to work independently in order to participate in IDS. They do not need to complete the approved classroom course curriculum before they pursue IDS in that course. An IDS must be based on the learning outcomes of a Ministry-Developed Ministry-Approved Language Template or Board/Authority Grade 10, 11 or 12 course. IDS courses can only count towards the elective courses in the Dogwood Diploma and cannot count towards the Adult Graduation Program.

Teachers and students need to develop an IDS plan that includes:

- A process for ongoing facilitation and assessment.
- Criteria for determining successful completion of the IDS.
- A credit value (one, two, three or four credits) for the proposed IDS.

The Principal needs to approve the IDS arranged between the teacher(s) and student(s).

Senior Secondary Registration in Courses at Other Institutions

Coquitlam College Senior Secondary students wishing to register in courses at other institutions, night school, summer school, or other continuing education or adult education programs are required to obtain prior permission from the counselling department of Coquitlam College. This permission will normally only be granted if the student cannot take the course at Coquitlam College because of a scheduling conflict and requires the course for graduation in that semester. Students are advised that they may be required to provide, to the other institution, official picture identification as well as an official letter of permission from Coquitlam College. The student is also responsible for supplying the office of Coquitlam College with the results of any authorized courses completed elsewhere.

Statement of Grades

The Statement of Grades is designed for the information of students and parents/guardians. It documents each course taken, the grade point average (or grade) and number of credit hours completed at the end of each term. All financial obligations to the College must be met before a Statement of Grades is released.

Official Documents

All students are required to submit official documentation from prior institutions before being accepted into Coquitlam College. When students submit documents and transcripts to the College, these documents become the property of Coquitlam College

Coquitlam College ensures that transcripts will be secure and accessible for a minimum of 55 years from the time a student graduates or withdraws from Coquitlam College.

A. Transcripts

The transcript constitutes an official statement bearing the College seal and the Registrar's signature. This statement shows each course taken, grade point average (or grade), and number of credit hours completed while a student attends the College.

Students may be provided with a copy of their academic records upon written request to the Registrar's Office. Academic record information will only be released upon proof of photo identification (i.e. Coquitlam College student card, valid driver's license, or passport). Information will not be given to any agency or person other than the student without a written letter of permission from the student.

Copies may be obtained from the Administration Office at a cost of $6.00 for the first copy and $3.00 for each additional copy (ordered at the same time). Transcripts should be requested well in advance of the time required. Transcripts are sent to employers, educational institutions, or other authorized agencies, only upon the request of the student involved. No transcripts will be issued until all financial obligations to the College have been met.

Medical Insurance

It is mandatory that all students have medical coverage. The College provides initial medical coverage through a private plan for students not eligible for coverage through the British Columbia Medical Plan. The current cost of the private plan is $47.00 per month. Students will need full coverage each semester.

Change of Address

Students must update their change of address or telephone number on the student portal or notify the Administration Office of any change in local or international addresses or telephone numbers.

Program Cancellation Policy

Coquitlam College may review a program to determine its discontinuation. The discontinuation of a program will involve Senior Administration and a consultative process with Department Heads and the Academic Council. The Principal/Vice-Principal Academic of the College will approve discontinuation after discussions with Senior Administration and after receiving recommendations from the Academic Council.

The College shall take the discontinuation of a program as a serious matter and will provide clear rationale for discontinuing a program. While not a complete list, decisions for discontinuing a program may include: capacity and resources; student demand for the program; quality of program or its contravention of the College's mission statement; financial concerns or hardship.

If a program is discontinued, the College has a clear plan to protect students who are enrolled in the program. Under the direction of the Senior Administration and with the advice of the Academic Council, the College will communicate program discontinuation as well as the timeline and transition plan the College will utilize to protect students.

The plan will prohibit new students from applying to the program and then gradually remove the courses no longer required by students to complete the program. If possible, the College will continue to operate and offer courses until all students registered in the program complete the program or find alternative arrangements for their studies.

The College will work with students to facilitate their movement to other institutions or work with students to maximize course transfer in order to expedite program completion. The College will use all its means to assist students in completing the program once its discontinuation is announced.

Senior Administration and the Academic Council will be responsible for recommendations and transition plans. The Principal/Vice-President Academic will be responsible for presenting this information to the Board of Governors, who will make a final decision on the cancellation of a program.

STUDENT LIFE

Homestay

The College has an excellent homestay program that promotes friendship and language acquisition with Canadian Families.

Canadian Immigration laws state that students under 19 years old must have a guardian in British Columbia and students under 18 years old must live with a guardian. The Coquitlam College homestay program includes a notarized custodianship document when requested.

Students interested in homestay are advised to apply well before commencement of their studies. Homestay applications are available in the office and our website.

Counselling

All students are encouraged to seek the advice of a counsellor in both academic and personal matters. We offer confidential services to those individuals who may find themselves in a critical situation dealing with sexual, physical or emotional abuse, bullying and extortion as well as other concerns. The College encourages students not to suffer through these situations alone, and counsellors are able to address these issues or act as a liaison with appropriate trained individuals in the particular area of concern.

Field Trips

All students participating in a field trip require medical insurance. When students sign up for a field trip at the office, they must show proof of current medical insurance. If a student does not sign up at the office (e.g. classroom or program field trip), the trip organizer will have all students sign medical forms. At least one week before leaving on a field trip the instructor(s) in charge must post a list in the staffroom of students leaving the College. Students must inform their other instructors they will be away on the field trip. The students will not be marked absent and will be able to receive any assigned homework without penalty.

Parking

Parking stickers must be purchased from the bookstore at the beginning of each semester. Parking is limited and students who drive cars to school must have a sticker on their windshield and park in student-designated areas only. Any car that is parked illegally will be towed away at the owner's expense. The parking lot can be a dangerous place and drivers speeding or driving carelessly will be dealt with harshly.

Safety Procedures

A. What to do During an Earthquake

If you are indoors, stay there. Drop under heavy furniture such as a table, desk or solid furniture. Remember stay clear of windows, shelves and heavy objects which may fall. Cover your head, face and torso to prevent being hit by falling objects. Hold on to the object that you are under so that you remain covered. Be prepared to move the object until the shaking is finished.

If you happen to be in the kitchen, turn off the stove at the first sign of shaking and quickly take cover under a counter or table, or in a doorway.

If you are outside, get into an open area away from buildings, trees, walls and power lines. Roll yourself into a ball for protection from flying objects.

If in a crowded, public place, do not rush for the doorway. Move away from display shelves containing objects that may fall.

If in a car, pull to the side of the road and stop the car. Do not park on or under bridges, overpasses or power lines. Remain in your vehicle until the earthquake is over. Listen to your radio for further information.

B. Supplies Needed to Keep on Hand for an Earthquake

1. Flashlight with spare batteries: Keep a flashlight beside your bed. Do not use matches or candles after an earthquake until you are certain no gas leaks exist.
2. Portable Radio (with spare batteries): Most telephones will be out of order or used for emergency purposes, so radios will be your best source of information.
3. First Aid Kit: Have a first aid book and be somewhat familiar with basic first aid.
4. Fire Extinguishers: Keep a fire extinguisher handy for small fires. Some extinguishers are only good for certain types of fires – electrical, grease or gas.
5. Food: It is practical to always keep a supply of non-perishable food on hand which can be rotated into your diet and replenished on a regular basis.

6. Water: Use water sparingly from your hot water heater, drain valve for drinking.

C. General Personal Safety

- Do not walk alone at night – take a friend or call a friend. Even if your destination is only a block or two away, be safe.
- When you take a taxi, ask the driver to wait until you are safely inside your building.
- Have a buddy system – call a friend you just left to advise you are home.
- Do not talk to people you are not comfortable with. Walk or run away. If someone threatens you, run away and scream loudly.
- Call 911 about any suspicious activity or behaviour you witness. (Know your location)
- Never get into a car with someone you don't know.
- Do not ride with friends who drive dangerously.
- Be cautious with strangers, even if they are attractive. Try to meet people through mutual friends.
- If you live in an apartment, do not leave doors and windows open at night even if you do not live on the ground floor. Make sure you have special locking devices that will allow the windows to only be opened a small amount. Your landlord is responsible for this.

Remember the police in Canada are respected and trusted, and they are there to help you at all times. Don't be afraid to call 911.

D. Bullying and Harassment Policy

Coquitlam College has zero tolerance to bullying and harassment. Students with any complaints should advise the staff immediately. The principal and/or counsellors will discuss the situation with the victim and according to the information received, appropriate action will be taken.

- Discussion with the perpetrator of his/her actions
- Verbal warnings
- Dismissal from the College
- Parental contact if student is under the age of 19
- Police intervention

Fire Drill Regulations

Periodic fire drills will be held throughout the semesters to give students practice in exiting the building orderly and quickly.

Students who are responsible for pulling a fire alarm for any reason other than to report a fire will be charged a fee of $75.00 to cover the cost of resetting the alarm. Subsequent violations will result in a $75.00 fine plus suspension or expulsion.

Students must realize that pulling an alarm may take an emergency service away from a life threatening situation.

Smoking Regulations

In compliance with the British Columbia Tobacco and Vapour Products Act, Coquitlam College is a “tobacco and vapour free” campus. Students who ignore the policy will receive a warning. A second violation will result in a formal report in the student’s file, and third violation may result in suspension for (5) school days.

Safeguarding personal information of parents and students is a fundamental concern of Coquitlam College. The school is committed to meeting or exceeding the privacy standards established by British Columbia’s Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA) and any other applicable legislation.

This Personal Information Privacy Policy describes the policies and practices of Coquitlam College regarding the collection, use and disclosure of personal information about students and parents, including the steps the school has taken to ensure personal and financial information is handled appropriately and securely.

Coquitlam College may add, modify or remove portions of this Personal Information Privacy Policy when it is considered appropriate to do so, and any such changes will be effective upon giving notice of the revised policy. You may ask for the most recent update of this Personal Information Privacy Policy at the school office. This Personal Information Privacy Policy may be supplemented or modified by agreements entered into between Coquitlam College and an individual from time to time.

Ten Privacy Principles

As part of Coquitlam College’s commitment, the Ten Privacy Principles govern the actions of the school as they relate to the use of personal information. This Personal Information Privacy Policy describes the Ten Privacy Principles and provides further details regarding Coquitlam College’s compliance with the principles.

Definitions

In this Personal Information Privacy Policy, the following terms have the meanings set out below:

“personal information” means any information about an identifiable individual, as further defined under British Columbia’s Personal Information Protection Act or other applicable laws. Principle 2 – Identifying Purposes

Coquitlam College will, before or at the time personal information is collected, identify the purposes for which the information is collected, used and disclosed.

What Information is Collected?

Coquitlam College collects and uses personal information to provide students with the best possible educational services enunciated by the Mission Statement of the school. Most of the information the school collects comes to the school directly from parents, students and agents or is information regarding the student's school activities, performance or behaviour, such as attendance records or grades. For example, when a student applies to register in the school, the school will ask you to provide the information that enables it to complete the registration process. This also includes information on academic, health, and personal matters needed by the school to provide the best possible education and co-curricular programs. Coquitlam College also collects information in connection with the use of its computer systems.

[Personal information may also be collected and used and disclosed in the course of the operation of building security systems, including video and other surveillance systems.]

Principle 3 – Consent

Coquitlam College will obtain consent of the individual for the collection, use or disclosure of personal information except where the law states exemptions, grants permission, or creates a requirement for collection, use, or disclosure of personal information.

Requirements for consent to collection, use or disclosure of personal information vary depending on circumstances and on the type of personal information that is intended to be collected, used or disclosed. In determining whether consent is required and, if so, what form of consent is appropriate, Coquitlam College will take into account both the sensitivity of the personal information and the purposes for which Coquitlam College will use the information. Consent may be express, implied (including through use of “opt-out” consent where appropriate), or deemed. For example, if an individual provides his/her mailing address and requests information regarding a particular service, consent to use the address to provide the requested information may be implied. On giving reasonable written notice to Coquitlam College, an individual may withdraw consent to the collection, use or disclosure of his or her personal information. Upon notice of withdrawal of consent, Coquitlam College will notify the individual of the likely consequences of withdrawing his or her consent and, except where otherwise required or permitted by law, Coquitlam College will stop collecting, using or disclosing the personal information as requested.

If a person provides Coquitlam College or its service providers or agents with personal information about an individual, the person represents that it has all necessary authority and/or has obtained all necessary consents from such individual to enable Coquitlam College to collect, use and disclose such personal information for the purposes set forth in this Personal Information Privacy Policy.

Principle 4 – Limiting Collection

Coquitlam College will limit the personal information collected to that information necessary for the purposes identified by the school.

Principle 5 – Use, Disclosure and Retention

Coquitlam College will only use, disclose and retain personal information for the purpose for which it was collected unless the individual has otherwise consented, or when its use, disclosure or retention is required or permitted by law.

How is Information Used?

Coquitlam College uses personal information as follows:

- to communicate with parents and students, process applications and ultimately to provide students with the educational services and co-curricular programs you expect.

- to enable the school to operate its administrative function, including payment of school fees and maintenance of non-educational school programs including parent and volunteer participation and fundraising.
- health, psychological, or legal information to provide certain specialized services in those areas or as adjunct information in delivering educational services.

If for any reason personal information is required to fulfill another purpose, the school will, where appropriate, notify you and ask you for your consent before the school proceeds.

Coquitlam College may use anonymous information, such as information collected through surveys or statistical information regarding students, to constantly improve our school.

When May Information be Disclosed?

Coquitlam College may disclose an individual's personal information to others in connection with the purpose for which it was collected, as consented to by the individual, or as required or permitted by law. The following are some examples of how Coquitlam College may disclose personal information.

When Authorized by You

- Other educational institutions routinely contact the school for personal information about students. For example, if a student moves to another school, college or university, student records are requested by the enrolling institution. Your permission to pass on these records is usually obtained when the student is registered and you authorize the school to disclose such information to other appropriate educational institutions for the ongoing education of the student.
- Contact information may be used to enable the school to provide the para-educational and administrative services usually operated by the school. These services include phoning committees, participation groups, parent meetings, fundraising, events, annual general meetings, etc.

In some cases, when communication is over the telephone, your consent to the use and/or disclosure of your information will be obtained verbally. In other cases, such as when you communicate through e-mail, your consent will be obtained electronically.

When Required by Law

The type of information the school is legally required to disclose most often relates to family court issues, legal proceedings, court orders and government tax reporting requirements. Student information as per Form 1701 is annually filed with the Ministry of Education.

Only the information specifically requested is disclosed and the school takes precautions to satisfy itself that the authorities making the request have legitimate grounds to do so.

When Permitted by Law

The school is legally permitted to disclose some personal information in situations such as an investigation of illegal activities, reasonable methods to collect overdue accounts, a medical emergency or suspicion of illegal activities, etc. Only pertinent information is disclosed.

The school does not sell, lease or trade information about you to other parties.

Outside Service Suppliers

At Coquitlam College the school sometimes contacts outside organizations to perform specialized services such as printing, student assessments, market research or data processing.

Suppliers

of specialized services are given only the information necessary to perform those services, and Coquitlam College takes appropriate steps to ensure that such information is securely transferred and stored and is used only to fulfill the purposes for which it was disclosed to the service provider.

Restricting Sharing Information

If you choose to limit the sharing of your personal information, please contact the school office and submit a written letter specifying which items of personal information you wish to limit, and to whom you wish these items to be restricted. Please remember that certain agencies, by law, have access to certain types of personal information.

How Long Is Personal Information Retained?

Personal information will only be retained for the period of time required to fulfill the purpose for which it was collected. Once the personal information is no longer required to be retained to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected and is no longer required or permitted to be retained for legal or business purposes, it will be destroyed or made anonymous.

Principle 6 – Accuracy

Coquitlam College will take appropriate steps to ensure that personal information collected by Coquitlam College is as accurate and complete as is reasonably required in connection with the purposes for which it was collected, used or disclosed.

How May I Update Outdated or Incorrect Information?

An individual may, upon written request to Coquitlam College, request that Coquitlam College correct an error or omission in any personal information that is under Coquitlam College's control and Coquitlam College will, as appropriate, amend the information as requested and send the corrected personal information to each third party to which it has disclosed the information during the preceding year.

Principle 7 – Safeguarding Personal Information

Coquitlam College will protect personal information by security safeguards that are appropriate to the sensitivity level of the information.

The School's Employees

In the course of daily operations, access to personal information is restricted to authorized employees who have a legitimate reason for accessing it. For example, teachers will have access to personal information about students but not your account with the school.

Employees are appropriately educated about the importance of privacy and they are required to follow the school's policies and procedures regarding handling of personal information.

Student Files

Student files are stored in secured filing cabinets. Access is restricted to only those employees (teachers, teacher-aides, counselors, secretaries, etc.) who, by nature of their work, are required to see them.

Electronic Security

The school manages electronic files appropriately with passwords and security measures that limit access by unauthorized personnel. The school's security practices are reviewed periodically to ensure that the privacy of personal information is not compromised.

Principle 8 – Openness

Coquitlam College will make information available to individuals concerning the policies and practices that apply to the management of personal information.

Individuals may direct any questions or enquiries with respect to the school's privacy policies or practices to the Privacy Officer of Coquitlam College.

Principle 9 – Individual Access

Coquitlam College will inform an individual, upon the individual's request, of the existence, use and disclosure of the individual's personal information, and shall give the individual access to it in accordance with the law.

How May I Access My Personal Information?

Individuals may access and verify any personal information with appropriate notice so that the office is able to supply the information required. Most of this information is available in the registration forms and other forms that you filled out.

Parent Access to Student Personal Information

A parent may access and verify school records of the student who is under the age of 19 years, with appropriate notice during normal school hours. In situations of family breakdown, the school will grant access to records of students in accordance with the law.

Student Access to Student Personal Information

Please refer to the Student Records Requirements and Best Practice Guidelines for Independent Schools in the Coquitlam College Policy and Procedure Manual.

Principle 10 – Complaint Process

Individuals may question compliance with the above principles.

Questions, Concerns and Complaints

Questions, concerns, and complaints about privacy, confidentiality and personal information handling policies and practices of the school should be directed to the school’s Privacy Officer by calling the school office. If necessary, individuals will be referred to use the school’s complaint procedure and appeals policies.
